STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES – WEST AFRICA SEV

APPENDIX A – MSLO ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

SEAGULL MARITIME

Document Name:	APPENDIX A – MSLO ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES
Document Type:	Operating Procedure
Document Reference:	SM/OPS/SOP/002-A
Issue Date:	30/08/2025

APPENDIX A – MSLO ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

INTRODUCTION

Seagull Maritime, may, at client request, embarked a contracted security operative to embark the client vessel in support of Armed SEV Operations or embarked Local Naval Teams, otherwise known as Maritime Security Liaison Officer (MSLO)

The principal objective of the MSLO is to bridge the potential communication gap between the client vessel and the Armed SEV/Naval Team and provide risk mitigation and guidance to the Master of the client vessel during security operations.

This Appendix A, should be read in conjunction with STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES – WEST AFRICA, referred to throughout as "the SOP" and together with Seagull Maritime's connected policies, is designed to provide the best possible protection from all know threats in the Area of Operations in the wider Gulf of Guinea region prioritising human life and safety and reducing the risk to client vessels as well as protecting the interests of our stakeholders, personnel and the local communities involved.

The procedures and guidance herein are compulsory, and no deviation is accepted without good cause or consent from Seagull Maritime.

This Appendix A is designed to assist Seagull Maritime MSLO's to carry out their duties, namely:

"The provision of liaison services when contracting armed SEV's and local naval teams to protect client vessels in the West Africa Region (Gulf of Guinea)

SCOPE

All operational aspects and maritime security requirements for the deployment and use of MSLO's for the safeguarding of client vessels and their crew in the West Africa region.

NOTE: Due to restrictions in the West Africa region, this Appendix A does not allow for the embarkation of armed personnel contracted as Privately Contracted Armed Security Personnel (PCASP) on board client vessels.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Responsibilities are as assigned within this Appendix.

It is the responsibility of the West Africa Operations Director to ensure he and all his staff have read and understood this Appendix A.

Where staff or personnel are uncertain or unaware of any relevant information, referred to, or within this document, the West Africa Operations Director is required where possible to provide guidance and relevant training to the best of his ability.

Additional training requirements identified should be included on Appraisal Forms.

Role specific responsibilities are as detailed in job descriptions and as stated within the SOP's and this document.

All staff and personnel are required to adhere to the guidance and rules set out within this document and the SOP. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary action.

NOTE: Naval teams and personnel will be referenced to in the SOP, however, as they are governmental forces operating within their own territorial waters, they are subject to their own policies and principles, and Seagull Maritime take no legal or ethical responsibility for any potential actions taken by said forces outside of the SOP.

LEGALITIES AND REFERRING DOCUMENTATION

This document and its associated SOP has been written in accordance with all applicable flag state guidance, IMO circulars and direct references from BMP Maritime Security 2025.

Seagull Maritime operates a:

- ✓ Quality Management System to ISO 9001:2015,
- ✓ Security Management System to ISO 280000:2022
- ✓ Security Operations Management System to ISO 18788: 2015

Personnel are reminded of their requirements and responsibilities under the Document Control Procedures and the Control of Records Procedures governed by the company Management Systems and to re-familiarise themselves wherever required.

All reporting as specified within the SOP is MANDATORY and failure to report may be classed as a disciplinary offence.

All required reports and documentation detailed within the SOP are available as part of the documentation issued on your deployment and it is the responsibility of the Team Leader to ensure that the most recent issue document is in use.

The Seagull Maritime Compliance Department monitors all external references and standards relating to the provision of risk management services and will update SOP's accordingly.

Seagull Maritime respects human rights and are guided by international human rights principles encompassed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, the United Nations Global Compact and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

APPENDIX A - MSLO

As an active member of the International Code of Conduct Association, we endorse the principles set forth by the International Code of Conduct for Private Security Service Providers (the "Code"). The Code articulates responsibilities of private security companies under human rights and international humanitarian law to ensure the responsible provision of private security services, particularly when operating in complex environments and we acknowledge the importance of these responsibilities.

COMPANY POLICY

All Seagull Maritime employees, contractors, vendors and affiliates are required to comply our management system policies. These policies are testament to the company's high standards of quality service and business ethics combined with strict conformity with all laws and regulations that govern our day-to-day activities and conducting security operations.

Policies are briefed and explained in full during staff and personnel's induction training and annual refresher training or ad-hoc training when significant policy change is made.

Policies are readily available in hard and soft copies to all stakeholders.

Our company code of conduct summarizes our key policies and lays out the ethical standards that apply to all our staff and external partners and stakeholders.

Seagull Maritime has the reasonable expectation that all employees, personnel, contractors, vendors or any other individual or entity that has a business association with Seagull Maritime will agree to, and abide by, this code and in doing so, act with integrity, honesty transparency and compassion.

Key policies are:

- ✓ Security Operations & Security Policy
- ✓ Equal Opportunities Policy
- ✓ Quality Policy
- ✓ Human Rights Policy
- ✓ Anti-Bribery, Corruption & Business Ethics Policy
- ✓ Grievance & Whistleblowing Policy
- ✓ Environment Policy
- ✓ Health & Safety Policy
- ✓ Drug & Alcohol Policy

MSLO ROLE & RESPONSIBILITIES

COMPETENCIES, ETHOS & ATTITUDE

MSLO's are to adhere with the company's high standards of quality and integrity. The MSLO role demands the ability to work effectively as part of a team with demonstrable leadership qualities under harsh conditions and in hostile environments.

- ✓ The following competencies must be possessed by the MSLO.
- ✓ Must be both physically and mentally robust enough to deal with complex environments and challenging working conditions.
- ✓ Strong communication skills; both for interaction with colleagues and liaison with NN, crew, agents, etc.
- ✓ Professional, diligent and responsible approach to service delivery.
- ✓ Responsible attitude to health, safety and working environment.
- ✓ Positive approach to teamwork, motivation and development (of both self, colleagues and SOPs).
- ✓ Sound judgement and bearing during all activities including hostile and emergency situations.
- ✓ Courage, both physical courage in conduct of duties and moral courage to do the right thing.
- ✓ Cultural awareness and sensitivity.
- ✓ Cheerfulness, in the face of adversity

The MSLO must be familiar with and operate in accordance with the Voluntary Principles on Security and Human Rights (VPSHR). Any observed misconduct by Host Nation Force personnel must be documented and reported through the incident management process (SM/INT/PRO/006).

ROLE

The primary role of the embarked MSLO is to ensure the appropriate implementation of the STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES – WEST AFRICA SEV. The MSLO is to be wholly familiarised with the SOP and be able to communicate its requirements to client vessels Master and Crew as well as local naval teams and the Master and Crew of Seagull Maritime SEV's.

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Provide a dedicated bridge security presence.
2. Be responsible for the liaison function with the client vessel and the on-board Naval Team
3. Assist the Master with conducting security orientations for all embarked crew sailing with the vessel
4. Co-ordinate all security planning for the escort from the security plan.
5. Advise and support the client vessel on the implementation of security and mitigation measures in accordance with BMP-MS.
6. Provide the Master with technical support and guidance to management on security issues as they may affect the security escort.
7. Assist the Master and naval team with incident coordination and crisis management response
8. Produce a daily report and updates as required for West Africa Operations.

9. Identify and report breach of security protocols to West Africa Operations.

Near-miss reports, observations and incidents observed during deployment must be logged via the Seagull Safety Reporting App (report.seagullmaritimeltd.com).

10. Ensure information flow is clear and accurate.
11. Monitor intelligence reports on all pirate attacks and general movements / trends of interest to the escort.
12. Co-ordination between the crew and the naval team.
13. Assist the Master in the training and implementation of regular security lockdown drills.
14. Liaise and coordinate operations with the naval commander.
15. Promote and enforce safety culture and good HSSE management.
16. Report any breach of Seagull policies.
17. Attend vessel HSSE workshops and morning HSE meetings.
18. Deliver continuation coaching & mentoring to the naval team as required.
19. Be responsible for the overall welfare of all naval personnel on board
20. Disseminate intelligence to all stakeholders

Upon completion of each task the MSLO is required to proceed as follows:

1. Collect, maintain and store all security related equipment used
2. Report to WAF Operations any malfunction or shortages of equipment
3. Produce a Post Task Report with photos of the mission completed

Other responsibilities during security operations are documented accordingly in the SOP.

Training requirements are defined in the Training and Competence Matrix (SM/INT/REG/008). BRAGs (Basic Risk Assessment Guides) are available for frontline reference.

CHAIN OF COMMAND

Seagull Maritime Operations Management are the senior point of the chain of command for these procedures and should be contacted immediately on any occasion that exceeds the norm or if there is any misunderstanding or identification of issue with any of this SOP.

During an Armed Sev Escort Security Operation the following chain of command exists:

1. WAF Operations Director
2. Operations Manager / or another designated person
3. Master of the Armed SEV
4. MSLO
5. Naval Team Leader on board

Armed Response

Should a threat be detected during the security operation, the MSLO will co-ordinate with the local forces Team Leader on board who has the authority to implement their Naval Operating Procedures and Rules of Engagement.

MASTERS OVERRIDING AUTHORITY

The Master has overriding authority to keep the crew and vessel safe from any harm.

As such, the Master remains the sole responsible person on board for the safety of all including the vessel and is obliged to follow Seagull's policies and procedures, national and international law and all maritime conventions in place.

The vessel remains under the control of the Master at all times.

The MLSO must be aware of the Masters overriding authority, which does not affect an individual's right to self-defence.

The MLSO must be aware of the ship's alternative chain of command should the Master become incapacitated or unavailable.

This SOP recognises ISPS Code Part B 4.10 which states that at all times the Master has the ultimate responsibility for the safety and security of the ship. Even at Security Level 3, a Master may seek clarification or amendment of instructions issued by those responding to a security incident, or threat thereof, if there are reasons to believe that compliance with any instruction may compromise the safety of the ship.